

These 3 are more physical. Please don't let that get in the way of your participation. That's Part of us learning to help each other. "If you can carry more, then carry more. If you can't carry much, then carry what you can. But if you cannot carry anything, that's ok, we'll carry you."

The following activities will take place the mornings of Friday and Saturday. We invite and encourage all to participate in these activities, young and old. We also encourage you to participate in as many activities as possible. It is set up so that everyone who comes on Friday has an opportunity to participate in 4-5 at the most between the 2 days. (2 from the following: Volcanic Eruption, The Wall, Parachute Toss; and all 3 of the following: A Cloke of Charity, and Soul Connection, and Reflection.) Those who come on Saturday will be able to participate in at least 2 activities. (Please do not let physical ability get in the way of participation. That is part of the experience of us learning to help one another.

These two are completely different than each other but do not require any physical strength/ability. Please attend both of these.

This one will be done as a whole after having experienced the other activities. Please try to go to as many of the others as you can before attending this one.

Friday and Saturday Activities

Volcano Eruption –

We all have blind spots and unbelief that can cause us to sabotage and get in the way of our joy and relationships. This challenge doesn't only help with discovering those, it helps us to understand how they play into our daily interactions with one another. This is a fun way to discover what we do and why we do it.

Parachute Toss –

This is a fun challenge that is done in the military. You will be divided up in smaller groups. Each group is seeking to accomplish an end goal together but in order to meet the end goal, some principles of oneness need to be learned by all involved.

The Wall –

We are all seeking to become the family of God. This challenge can be accomplished only when realizing "We only succeed in succeeding together." We may need to discover first how to overcome the things that divide us from one another and from God for us to truly unite.

A Cloak of Charity –

What is the Lord up to today? The unifying of all things in Christ. In Gethsemane, our Savior used the power of charity to overcome ALL things. We too can follow His example and use the gift of the at-onement to unite us together. This activity is a chance for collective pondering, reflecting and discovering what really unites us.

Soul Connection –

The purpose of this activity is to bring into awareness how connected we really are. There is power in seeing and recognizing the beauty of another soul. We cannot see our oneness or even God if we hide in shame and insecurity, or pride. Allowing ourselves to be seen also opens the doorway to truly see and connect with another.

Reflection –

The purpose of this activity is to reflect on the previous activities and share with each other. After learning about ourselves and how we relate to others, this will be a chance to laugh, and connect and experience the power of confession and how it can be used to unite our hearts together.
